This report explores the key dynamics shaping the battery market across the region: from the rise of lithium-ion and solid-state technologies to growing applications in energy storage, electric mobility, and industrial resilience.

The lithium-ion battery segment is leading this growth within the Middle East and Africa's battery market, with its value expected to rise from USD 2.36 billion in 2024 to USD 6.98 billion by 2032, reflecting a CAGR of 14.7% as per the Data Bridge Market Research. This growth is fuelled by the.

Saudi Electricity Company (SEC) has secured two massive battery energy storage systems totaling 4.9 GWh at a cost of just USD 73-75 per kilowatt-hour (kWh) installed, marking a potential turning point for energy storage economics outside China. Energy storage costs have been on the sort of slide.

Global battery prices have fallen dramatically – over 90% since 2010 – due to R&D breakthroughs, economies of scale, and fiercer competition (IEA 2024). Factors such as manufacturing overcapacity, low metal/component prices, and the shift to lower-cost LFP (lithium iron phosphate) chemistry have.

The Saudi Arabia lithium-ion battery market size reached USD 496.8 Million in 2024. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach USD 2,622.4 Million by 2033, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 18.70% during 2025-2033. The market is driven by the growing investment in renewable energy by.
