Is Poland moving towards battery energy storage systems (BESS)?

As expected, Poland's latest capacity market auctions have highlighted a significant shift towards the battery energy storage systems (BESS) beside the fact that the de-rating factor has been significantly decreased.

How many MW rated energy storage systems are there in Poland?

The capacity obligations for these projects ranged from 1.2 MW to 153 MW rated power, with an average capacity of around 30 MW. The decision to reduce the de-rating factor for energy storage systems in the last capacity market auction in Poland from 95 percent to 61 percent did not prove detrimental to the market.

How much does battery storage cost in Europe?

The landscape of utility-scale battery storage costs in Europe continues to evolve rapidly, driven by technological advancements and increasing demand for renewable energy integration. As we've explored, the current costs range from €250 to €400 per kWh, with a clear downward trajectory expected in the coming years.

How much does a lithium-ion battery storage system cost?

Recent industry analysis reveals that lithium-ion battery storage systems now average €300-400 per kilowatt-hour installed, with projections indicating a further 40% cost reduction by 2030. For utility operators and project developers, these economics reshape the fundamental calculations of grid stabilization and peak demand management.

Does Poland support dynamic electricity pricing?

In summary, Poland's legal and market framework in 2025 fully supports dynamic electricity pricing, making it one of the first in the region to roll this out at scale to households, in line with broader EU energy market integration goals. By law, all large energy suppliers in Poland must offer dynamic pricing contracts as of 2024.

How much does battery storage cost?

The largest component of utility-scale battery storage costs lies in the battery cells themselves, typically accounting for 30-40% of total system costs. In the European market, lithium-ion batteries currently range from €200 to €300 per kilowatt-hour (kWh), with prices continuing to decrease as manufacturing scales up and technology improves.
