What is the evolution of utility scale ESS tenders in India?

The evolution of Utility Scale ESS tenders in India highlights the increasing focus and efforts of all stakeholders. In the past five years, the ESS tenders have been evolving with innovative and new age tenders such as RTC, Peak Power and now standalone ESS.

Which ESS tenders will increase Indian ESS capacity manifold?

The latest ESS tenders issued by Solar Energy Corporation of India (SECI) and NTPC are the first in India to combine standalone ESS with on-demand use. These two standalone ESS tenders, by SECI and NTPC, have a cumulative storage capacity of 1GW/4GWh. Thus, if executed well, these projects will augment Indian ESS capacity manifold.

What is India's ESS capacity compared to GW-scale ESS tenders?

India's current BESS installed capacity (<50MW) is minuscule compared to the current GW-scale standalone ESS tenders. Safe to say, there will be a dearth of suppliers and associated supply chain infrastructure for ESS components at this scale in India.

What is an ESS tender?

Also, more recently, SECI and NTPC came up with standalone ESS tenders of 1,000MWh and 3,000MWh, respectively. These tenders aim to utilise the various applications a utility scale ESS can provide in terms of ancillary services and energy shifting.

What are ESS tenders & NTPC tenders?

The latest standalone ESS tenders from Solar Energy Corporation of India and NTPC will augment capacity manifold and help develop the local ecosystem. Given that ESS technology is in its infancy in India, the current tenders face several technical, procurement and regulatory challenges.

Should ESS tenders be similar to mw tenders?

Future ESS tenders should have a similar design to enforce bidding in terms of MW, ultimately developing a capacity market in India. Another major factor leading to lower tariffs would be the utilisation of ESS for creating multiple revenue streams (e.g., trading stored power in exchanges).
